Vintage Conditions

The 2005 growing season began with a cold, wet winter which promoted even budburst across all varieties. Spring was dry, which kept disease at bay, and warm during flowering. Summer was dry and sunny with moderate temperatures and cool nights. All varieties ripened well prompting an early harvest.

Maturation

Parcels of this wine were aged for three months in French oak.

Winemaker Comments: Charlotte Newton

Colour

Pale straw.

Nose

Aromas of melon and grapefruit combine with hints of spice (derived from partial aging in French oak).

Palate

Fig and citrus flavours follow from the nose onto a fresh, balanced palate with more tropical and stone fruit touches. Notes of spice, almost subliminal cashew nut-like oak and a clean acid finish add complexity to the zesty finish.
